Example

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Small Cap Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Small Cap Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Small Cap Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Small Cap Fund	$93	$290	$504	$1,120

Portfolio Turnover

The Small Cap Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Small Cap Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Small Cap Fund’s performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Small Cap Fund’s portfolio turnover rate was 91% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

Under normal market conditions, the Small Cap Fund invests at least 80% of its net assets (plus any borrowings for investment purposes) in stocks of small capitalization (“small cap”) companies. The Small Cap Fund defines small cap companies as those whose market capitalization, at the time of purchase, are consistent with the market capitalizations of companies in the Russell 2000® Index. The Advisor uses fundamental research to identify companies with the potential for superior earnings growth and sustainable valuations. The Advisor’s intensive bottom-up, fundamental research drives stock selection, which the Advisor believes is key to generating excess returns.

Most of the assets will be invested in U.S. common stocks that the Advisor expects will experience long-term, above average earnings growth. The Small Cap Fund may at times invest a significant portion of its assets (greater than 25%) in stocks of technology companies, representing various unrelated technology industries. The Small Cap Fund may also invest up to 20% of its net assets in equity securities of foreign issuers, including issuers located in emerging markets, that are American Depositary Receipts (“ADRs”) or traded on a U.S. stock exchange when consistent with the Small Cap Fund’s investment objective. The Advisor may sell a security for different reasons including when its price reaches a target set by the Advisor or if the Advisor believes that other investments are more attractive.

Principal Risks

There is the risk that you could lose all or a portion of your investment in the Small Cap Fund. The following risks could affect the value of your investment:

- Management Risk: The Advisor may fail to implement the Small Cap Fund’s investment strategies and meet its investment objective.
- General Market Risk: The market price of a security may fluctuate, sometimes rapidly and unpredictably. These fluctuations may cause a security to be worth less than its cost when originally purchased or less than it was worth at an earlier time.
- Equity Risk: Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases and decreases in value.
- Growth Stock Risk: Growth-oriented funds may underperform when value investing is in favor.

- Technology Company Risk: Although technology companies are found among a broad range of industries, they often face unusually high price volatility and losses can be significant.
- Foreign Securities and Emerging Markets Risk: Foreign securities are subject to increased risks including political and economic risks, greater volatility, currency fluctuations, higher transaction costs, delayed settlement, possible foreign controls on investment, and less stringent investor protection and disclosure standards of foreign markets. Investments in emerging markets are generally more volatile than investments in developed foreign markets.
- Small- and Medium-Sized Company Risk: Investing in securities of smaller companies including micro-cap, small-cap, medium-cap and less seasoned companies often involve greater volatility than investing in larger, more established companies and these securities may be less liquid than other securities.
- Portfolio Turnover Risk: High portfolio turnover involves correspondingly greater expenses to the Fund, including brokerage commissions or dealer mark-ups and other transaction costs on the sale of securities and reinvestments in other securities, which may result in adverse tax consequences to the Fund's shareholders.
